Tutor Resources

Many tutors have reported that their students really enjoy the News for You articles! Remember, you can pick up copies of News for You in newspaper form at our office or you can access the articles online at NewsforYouOnline.com (password is 63178C).

ESOL tutors may want to check out Future English for Results teacher training DVD, which is available to borrow from our office. This is great for a refresher or just to give you some new lesson ideas!

NEDP Graduates

Congratulations to our recent NEDP graduates, Charles and Sirila!

Tutor Spotlight

Nancy became a Literacy Volunteers tutor in the summer of 2014. She has since been very active – not only tutoring English language learners but also helping recruit new tutors. She is always enthusiastic and open to trying new ideas. She also helps Julio Reinoso with the Lee Y Seras program (for ESOL parents and their children) here at the main Library.

A couple of years ago, Nancy told us she loves to paint and offered to donate painted furniture to Literacy Volunteers to help with fundraising. For the past two years we have used three of Nancy's beautiful painted pieces as silent auction items to help defray the costs of our literacy programs. We are so grateful Nancy and all our wonderful tutors. Not only do you help our learners achieve their goals but often help us in so many other ways. Thank you for all you do!!!

Holiday Celebration

On Saturday, 11/18 we had a holiday celebration for tutors and students. Everyone brought different dishes to share from their native countries and we had musical entertainment by Jean and Melissa. We wish all our tutors and students a very happy holiday season!
